Undergraduate Research Internship Opportunity at IBM

The Undergraduate Research Internship Opportunity at IBM is 10 weeks long, based at the IBM Research Center in San Jose, CA. They provide the opportunity to work with IBM mentors. Successful interns will be offered full-time employment after graduation. The interns are individually chosen on the basis of their skills, experience, and the alignment of the intern's skills with IBM's research needs. More information on the internship is available at the application link.
