There are two groups of Simulink models in this folder.

The first group includes Simulink models that were used to generate the results of selected examples of the textbook.

The second group includes models of six of the examples of Appendix A. These files include only the model of the plant. Students can build models of the controllers and close the loop.