

Child Care Support for Faculty Travel to Conferences

The College of Engineering will provide up to $2,000 annually for each of its probationary tenure system faculty with primary care responsibility who require child care by a child care provider, other than a family member, when the faculty need to attend professional conferences to present research papers. This reimbursement will be provided by making a formal request to the Associate Dean for Inclusion and Diversity with appropriate documentation (receipt from child care provider) after attending the conference.

Infant Care Support for Graduate Students

The College of Engineering will provide a one-time $2,000 support for its graduate students with primary care responsibility towards cost sharing for an infant up to one year of age for child support by a licensed child care provider other than a family member. This one time support will be provided by making a formal request to the graduate program of the college, with appropriate documentation.
