President’s Statement
I hope everyone is surviving their midterms this week! Just remember that we only have a few more days until spring break! Also, make sure to come to our St. Patrick’s Day meeting on March 17th (right after we get back from break). We have some fun activities planned along with some green snacks and drinks so come hang out with us! Have a great spring break!

GM- Company Dynamics: How engineering decisions impact other company function
Tonight, Liz Traskal from GM will be presenting on Company Dynamics: How engineering decisions impact other company function. See below for her biography.
I graduated from MSU in 2003 with a BS in Mechanical Engineering. In 2007 I earned my Masters Degree from Purdue University in Integrated Vehicle Systems Engineering. I have worked for GM since my graduation from MSU in 2003. I have 7 years of Driveline experience, beginning as a CAE analysis engineer. I then moved on to a position at GM’s Milford Proving Grounds as a Driveline Development Engineer working on the Hummer H3, GMC Canyon and Chevrolet Colorado programs. I am currently a Driveline Design Engineer working on the AWD system for the Cadillac SRX and Buick Lacrosse programs. I joined GM’s MSU University Relations Team in 2008 to help support the on campus activities for GM.

Next meeting
Join us in two weeks for a relaxing St. Patrick’s Day themed meeting!

Impression 5 and Junkyard Wars
To all the Impressions 5 and Junkyard Wars volunteers, thank you for your participation and enthusiasm for engineering outreach and palette-based bridge-building! It was a fun time and we had a solid SWE showing at both events- Hope to continue the fine tradition next year!

Blood Drive
SEC’s will be hosting a blood feud soon!

Swingin’ With SWE - Great Lakes State Conference 2010
REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN!
Fill out the registration form posted on the MSU SWE website and return it with your $10 registration fee to the Center. Please make checks payable to MSU SWE.
The 2010 Great Lakes State Conference will be held on Saturday, March 27 on the campus of Michigan State University in the Engineering Building. This annual conference is an all-day (10:00am-4:30pm), activity-filled spring conference offering a chance for SWE chapters throughout Michigan to get together to interact, network, and learn what other chapters are doing. The conference will consist of speakers, group activities, SWE share time, meals, and a raffle. Attending this conference is a great way to network, get engineering tips for the future, and simply have some fun.
